Barry –

Please find below the response from legislative staff to the agency's request of July 18, 2017, for clarification and/or concurrence with our interpretation of Act 425. With this legislative guidance in hand, the Office of Conservation will proceed as mandated by law (and outlined to you in the correspondence of June 9, 2017), to first draft and then “promulgate a form with a checklist of the pertinent information required to be included in the semi-annual report.”

If I can answer any questions, please let me know.

With regards,

MR

Matt --

Tyler is out of the office for a couple of weeks so I will respond for us this time.

I think that generally this letter works. The only thing I would suggest is that since some of this information has never been provided to the Office of Conservation, you may want a detailed report for the first submission but you should make it clear that after the initial report, each report is to address activities covered by these items only for the period covered by the report, i.e., the previous six months. That might ease some of the concerns about the onerous nature of the reporting requirement.

Otherwise, I think this covers all of the information that the legislation included in the reporting requirement. If we can be of further assistance, let us know.
