Any bids accepted by the State Mineral and Energy Board which result in a state mineral lease being given places the successful bidder on notice that, if the result of the above mentioned litigation is adverse to the State, the State's title to that adjudicated acreage, whether the whole or a part of the lease awarded, may be vitiated. Accordingly, all leases awarded by the State Mineral and Energy Board are without warranty of any kind, either express, implied, or statutory, including, but not limited to merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose.
